

THE DOINGS OF HAPPY HOOLIGAN AND HIS BROTHER, GLOOMY GUS

Gus and the Policeman Get It Good and Hard, While Happy Wins Out, and the Widow Smith Is Glad.

SO POLITE.
Her: "Won't you sit in this chair, Miss Spooner?"
Miss Spooner: "After you."—Punch.

GENTLE HINT.
Boss (to sleeping clerk): "Are you so near-sighted? You'll hurt your eyes, Mayer."—Meggendorfer Blätter.

BRavery.
"You struck your wife, that is cowardly."
"Well, you just have a scrap with her, and then you will say it is bravery."—Meggendorfer Blätter.

HE EXPECTED TOO MUCH.
Purchaser: "What! You want for that horse why, it is lame!"
Horse Dealer: "Well, do you expect it will fly for that price?"—Meggendorfer Blätter.

COMPLAINING GUEST.
Roomer (who has taken an attic room): "But it rains through here."
Landlady: "The other gentlemen who lived here always went to the club on rainy days."—Der Dorfbarbier.

HE HAD GOOD "BAIT."
"Do you believe that fish have any appreciation of color?"
"Certainly. Look what a lot that old chap with the nose has caught!"—Punch.
